Privacy Policy of tabby, a Browser Extension

Tabby published on many different browser Stores, operates the Browser Extension APIs and provides tab management services for end users.

Tabby is called "Extension" in the rest of the documentation.

This page is used to inform users regarding our policies with the collection, use, and disclosure of Personal Information by the Extension:

- The Extension does not have any account system or storage (like server).
- The Extension collects tab URLs, Titles and Descriptions only locally to fill in a personal popup with all the tabs to help users with their browsing experience.
- The Extension does not share/transfer any URLs, Titles or Descriptions to the Internet.
- The Extension stores personal information on the local memory in order to restore a tab and the content of the page. No interaction with any server is used. It's only to make the tool work.
